

“Most people don’t fail because they’re unskilled—they fail because no one knows they exist.”

Problem we found...

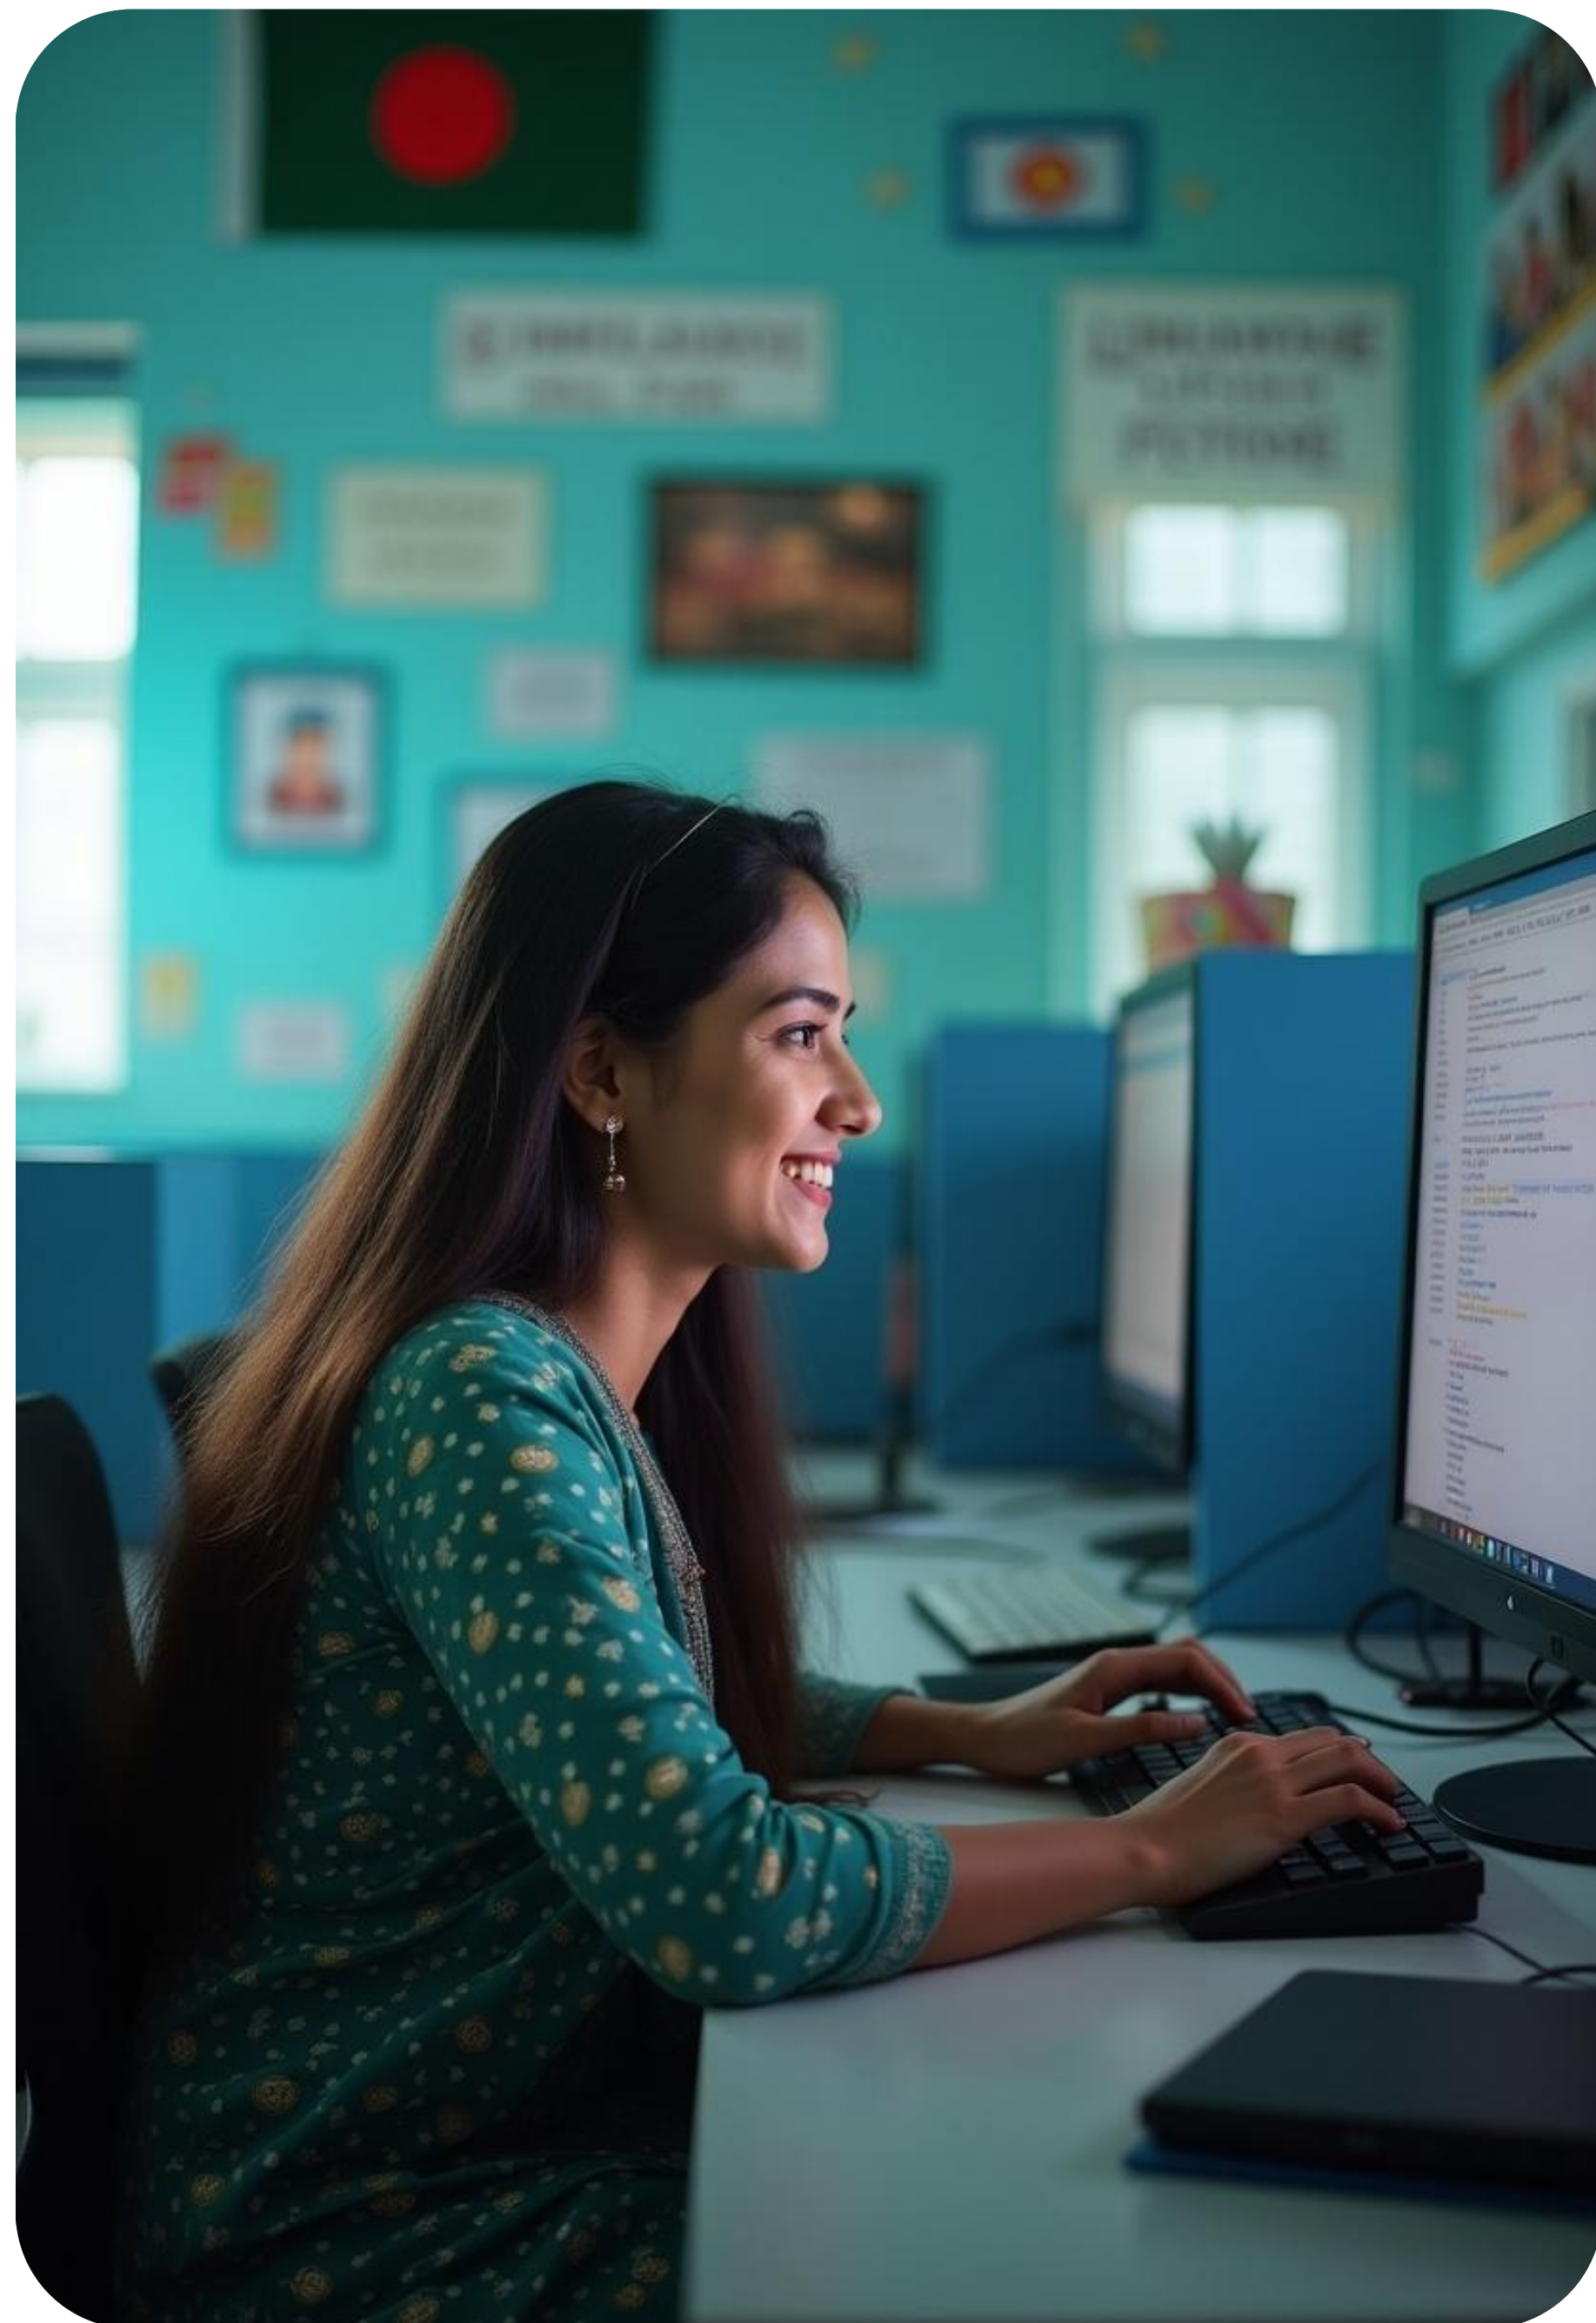

I know this because I've lived it. I've seen brilliant designers, coders, writers, etc—all stuck—just because they didn't have the right network, resume, self branding, or mentor.

Meet Sarah...

A talented graphic designer from Dhaka, Bangladesh. struggles with an outdated CV, no personal website, and no mentor. After months of unanswered applications, she loses confidence, unsure which job truly fits her.

The Weebird Moments...

Sarah hears about weebird. She signed up -> The system build with her profile automatically resume, personal landing page & digital business card for networking. It has also shows her best matching job & upskills with courses & connect mentors in her industry.

Mission

“Too many brilliant people go unnoticed— not because they aren’t capable, but because they don’t know how to be seen. Weebird is here to flip that reality. Our mission is to give quiet talent a voice—and where your true potential never stays hidden.”

Vision

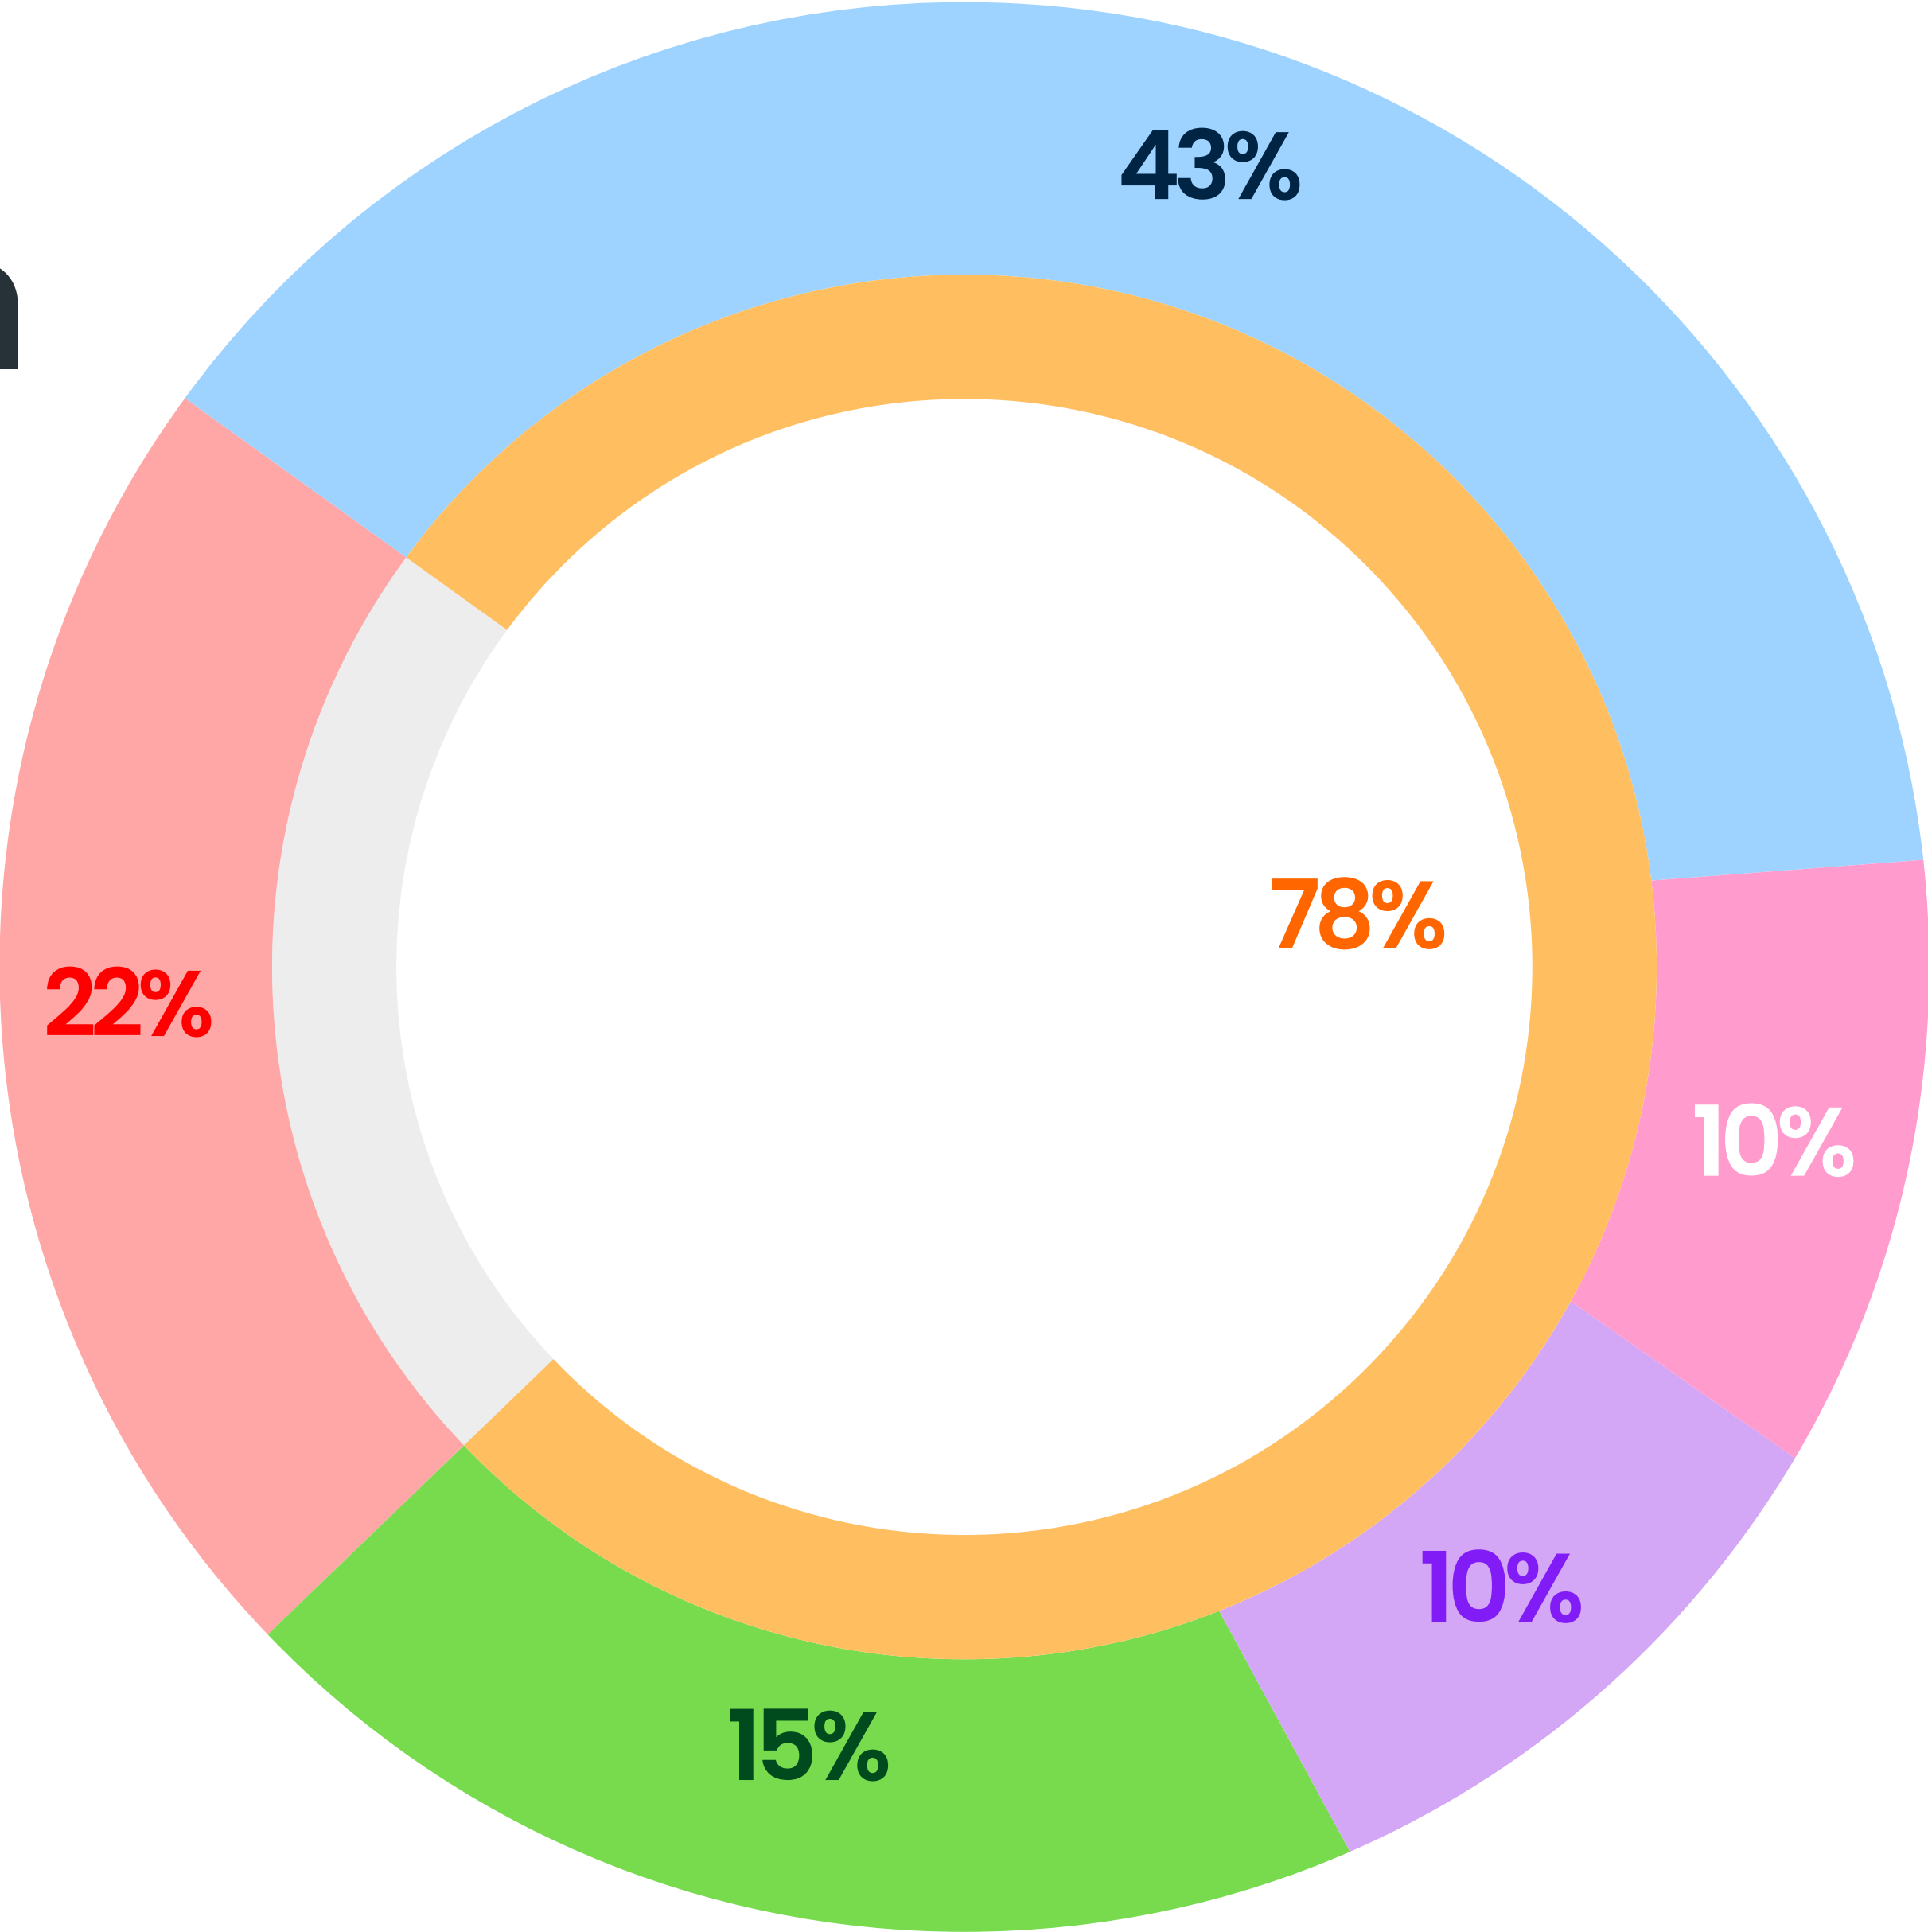

We envision a world where no talent goes unseen—where your skills and story matter more than your background. Weebird exists to end the silent struggle of being overlooked, by building a future where everyone is visible, valued, and guided toward their true potential—one smart profile, one mentor, and one opportunity at a time.

A country that redefined digital identity at scale..
